

Study and do research with students and partners from Germany!

Digital formats

exploring new ways to meet and collaborate

Joint workshops

virtual workshops with students from Goethe University Frankfurt

Summer school

three-day international summer school at Goethe University in July 2024

Mentorship

at your institution and our department in Frankfurt

Joint research projects

support in your collaborative research endeavor connected to # realizing joint fieldwork in Ft. Yates and Frankfurt # spending one semester in Frankfurt
 # working with students from Frankfurt in Ft. Yates
 # working online

a few collaborative projects will be eligible for financial support

#GU

Department of Social and Cultural Anthropology (Institut für Ethnologie)
 Goethe University Frankfurt
 Norbert-Wollheim-Platz 1
 60623 Frankfurt a. M.
<http://tinygu.de/anthropology>

Coordinator CollabAnthro Certificate Program

Timo Rossmann, M. A.
 Phone: +49 69 798-33076
 E-Mail: rossmann@em.uni-frankfurt.de

#SBC

Fort Yates Campus
 9299 Hwy 24
 Fort Yates, ND 58538
 Phone: (701) 854-8000
 Fax: (701) 854-3403
 E-Mail: info@sittingbull.edu

Mentor in the CollabAnthro Program

Dr. Mafany Ndiva Mongoh
 Ag / Science Instructor
 Science Technology Center
 Office 141
 Fort Yates
 Phone: (701) 854-8051
 E-Mail: mafany.mongoh@sittingbull.edu

funded by

JOIN OUR PROGRAM!

COLLABORATIVE ANTHROPOLOGY

For Bachelor and Master students in the Environmental Science Program

INSTITUT FÜR ETHNOLOGIE
 GOETHE-UNIVERSITÄT FRANKFURT

WHAT IS IT ABOUT?

opportunities for collaborative research between students at SBC in Ft. Yates and at GU in Frankfurt

support structure for the development of joint research projects and the writing of theses based on collaborative research

CollabAnthro certificate

As part of the program, students can earn a certificate in Collaborative Anthropology (on top of the regular degrees). Eligible are all Bachelor and Master students enrolled in the Environmental Science Program at SBC as well as all students enrolled in the B. A. and M. A. program at the Department of Social and Cultural Anthropology in Frankfurt

All students will be admitted upon request

Activities related to the CollabAnthro certificate may also count for your regular study program. For more information, please talk to your mentor at SBC

OUTLINE

Collaborative research counseling

Counseling sessions (virtual or on site) with the program coordinator

Knowledge in collaboration

Courses in the regular study program on collaborative epistemologies

Virtual get-together

Regular meetings between all program participants

Reflecting collaborative research

Participation in a joint digital workshop to discuss research interests and reflect on possible formats for collaboration

Self study and matching

Self-organizing project teams, each with two to four students enrolled in at least two different institutions

Language skills

Enhancing language skills in a second foreign language through courses or peer-to-peer learning (with an emphasis on local languages)

Designing collaborative research

Project teams participate in a workshop to develop and present joint research projects

Summer school 2024 in Frankfurt

Attending a three-day summer school at Goethe University (virtual attendance will be possible)

Joint research

Realizing a collaborative research effort. Collaborative research can be realized by conducting fieldwork together OR conducting fieldwork separately on the basis of a joint research framework and question

Documentation of research experience (research blog)

Project teams compile a joint entry for the CollabAnthro research blog

Completion and submission of thesis

The thesis is based on the collaborative research of the project team and counts equally for the regular study program as well as for participation in the certificate program

VISIT OUR WEBSITE

FOR MORE INFORMATION

<https://tinygu.de/collaboration>