

Dear Students of Southeast Asian Studies Department,

We are happy to invite you to join an online workshop on Inter-cultural communication: how to cope with study and life adjustment in Germany. This workshop targets especially for international students of Southeast Asia Studies department on their master, PhD and Post-Doc levels. Students from Germany who are interested to join and share their perspectives from the native German are also welcomed.

The workshop will be held on Saturday, 11 December 2021 at 10:00-15:00 CEST (first slot is scheduled at 10:00-12:00 CEST and the second slot is scheduled on 13:00-15:00 CEST). The workshop aims for:

1. The international students able to formulate strategies useful for their initial adjustment to study and live in Germany by knowing the cultural working standard of the Germans.
2. The international students are able to map potential conflict associated with differences cultural working standard from home countries and Germany.
3. The international students are able to map advantages of certain behavioural strategies useful for their adjustment and further integration in Germany.

If you are interested to join with the workshop, kindly fill in the registration form here: https://docs.google.com/forms/d/1X0okJ3Om5_im7zbaoM7fRC3nuQviDl33iaRYlfWxTMU/edit no later than Wednesday, 8 December 2021. Due to the setting of the workshop that participants will be discussing in small groups, full participation is highly expected. The zoom link will be shared once your participation is confirmed.
