Additionally, ALIMENTOPIA / Utopian Foodways, the most recent project hosted by CETAPS and ILCML - FLUP, aims to offer a multi-disciplinary approach to the discussion of future conditions of food production and consumption through holistic and prospective utopian thinking, thus aiding the implementation of the emerging field of Food Studies in Portugal.

However, the projects are in need of contributions from specialists in Literature and Linguistics, with an interest in Food Studies, who may help with the research for ALIMENTOPIA / Utopian Foodways project.

The projects will benefit from the contribution of several trainees coming from all over Europe and a truly international work environment will be offered, from September 2015 to December 2018, as well as the unique opportunity to participate in a project that will grow in direct proportion to their work.
