Get Finished

Objective

Get Finished is a two-day workshop designed as a comprehensive preparation for last-year PhD students from all faculties.

Description

It is one of the central aims of the workshop to prepare the participants for the presentation and discussion of their research results at the viva voce, the oral PhD exam. Furthermore, participants will deal with what comes after obtaining the PhD degree. Starting with an assessment of a participant’s skills and achievements so far, an individual roadmap for the future will be planned.

This workshop covers:
- The Viva Voce - the oral PhD exam
- Putting one’s own research results into a nutshell
- Competent and confident in the discussion
- PhD – how to continue?
- Individual assessment and preparation of a “roadmap”

The workshop takes place at the International Guesthouse of Goethe University that is located at Ditmarstraße/Frankfurt.

“...In the Get finished-Workshop you get useful information on what to keep in mind in the final phase of your dissertation. It covers a wide range of aspects, such as the oral examination and preparation for it as well as tactics for tackling very different problems. All this happens in a friendly and collegial atmosphere while you get to know other people who are in a similar situation as you. Therefore I can only recommend this workshop.”
