

Problems of private law history from French and German perspective

– German-French seminar in cooperation with Prof. Nicolas Laurent-Bonne (Clermont-Ferrand) –

The aim of the seminar will be to work out similarities and differences in the subjects, perspectives and methods of the recent history of private law in Germany and France in a comparative perspective.

In the course of the seminar, individual areas of private law from the middle Ages to the 20th century will be examined comparatively from the perspective of German and French literature. As a result, not only similarities and differences in the private law tradition of the two countries are to be uncovered, but also in their legal history.

The seminar will take place from 6th to 8th July 2018 as a block seminar in English. The seminar papers may be written in German. The seminar is open not only to students in the main subjects, but also to undergraduate and graduate students.

A preliminary discussion with the distribution of the topics will take place on Thursday, 8th February 2018, 11 o'clock c.t., RuW 4.101.
