

Writing Articles for International Publication in Peer-Reviewed Journals

Objective

- To understand journal editors' criteria for selection, and apply those to your own draft article
- To identify the target readership and what they will gain from reading the article
- To learn ways to strengthen the presentation of a scholarly argument and the use of secondary scholarship
- To understand the peer review and publishing process, including copyright and open access
- To draft an abstract for the article using the framework of key elements provided, edit in pairs and revise the final version

Description

This workshop for researchers seeking to publish in peer-reviewed journals focuses on the key criteria involved in journal editors' selection processes and peer-review, and how to meet them.

Based on the inside knowledge of an experienced academic publisher, it is designed to develop essential skills in writing articles in order to increase researchers' chances of placing their work in premium scholarly journals, to the benefit of their academic profile and career prospects.

Methodology

- Presentation and discussion
- Exercises in pairs and groups
- Quickfire writing exercise

Trainer

Josie Dixon

Lucian Consulting,
Winchester

Josie Dixon is an international publishing and research training consultant; following a 15-year career in academic publishing, she has given training workshops for postgraduates, postdoctoral researchers and staff in the humanities and social sciences in over 80 universities in the UK, USA, Ireland, Germany, Belgium, the Netherlands, Norway, Sweden and Finland. More details can be found at <http://www.lucianconsulting.com>.

Organizational Information

Language	English
Target group	Advanced Doctoral candidates and Postdocs from Humanities and Social Sciences
Date	Tuesday-Wednesday, 17-18 April 2018, 9:30 – 16:30
Registration	For registration click here