

Nonequilibrium dynamics of quantum impurities

Prof. Dr. Eugene Demler

(University of Harvard, USA)

Recent theoretical developments in describing dynamics of quantum impurities interacting with many-body systems will be discussed. Applications of these results to both traditional solid state systems and ensembles of ultracold atoms will be presented. Examples include resonant X-ray scattering experiments in high T_c cuprates and spectroscopy of impurity atoms in Bose and Fermi systems.