ERC-Funding

The European Research Council (ERC) is an institution set up by the European Commission to finance basic and excellent research. It is funded by the EU Framework Programme for Research and Innovation "Horizon 2020" from 2014 to 2020.

The aim of ERC funding is to support the best and most creative scholars in discovering and researching new approaches in all disciplines. Particularly interdisciplinary approaches that transcend the boundaries of their field are welcomed, as they promise to hold the highest innovation potential.

The grants are aimed at researchers of all nationalities, regardless of age, who conduct their research at an institution within the 28 EU Member States or in countries associated to Horizon 2020. Applications will be submitted online by the Principal Investigator (PI) via the European Commission’s Funding and Tenders Portal.

Features of ERC Grants

- Funding for individuals (PI) and their team in a project of up to five years
- No consortia
- Open to all fields of research, no thematic priorities
- Researchers at institutions within the EU Member States or associated countries are eligible to apply
- Funding of pioneering 'frontier research' ("high-risk/high-gain")
- Scientific excellence as sole selection criterion
- Peer review evaluation process through independent scientific experts in 25 international review panels
- Limited possibilities for resubmission
