

How to Pursue a Career in Academia: Career Paths in Germany, Austria, and Switzerland

Objective

The goal of the online workshop is to support the participants in planning their academic careers and to help them grasp the necessary steps and prerequisites.

Description

The workshop addresses topics and questions that are relevant for researchers and scientists of all disciplines who aim to pursue an academic career in Germany, Austria or Switzerland. These include:

- Why is it necessary to aim for a professorship?
- How do I become a professor? What do hearings for professorships involve?
- What are the different options and career paths in the postdoc phase? What are their respective advantages and drawbacks?
- What do I need to accomplish in order to be an appointable candidate?
- Which personal competencies do I need?
- What are the difficulties and risks, and what can I do about them?
- What are my next steps in order to reach my goals?

Methodology

- Brief presentations and group discussions
- Small-group discussions
- Self-reflection
- Internet research

Trainer

Dr. Matthias Zach
Karriereberatung für
Akademiker*innen
Jena & Göttingen

- Counsels researchers and scientists from all disciplines
- Educated in Oxford, Paris and Tübingen, has worked as a researcher and a science manager in Britain, France and Germany

www.kabeak.de

Organizational Information

Language	English
Target group	Advanced Doctoral Candidates and Postdocs from all faculties
Date	Wednesday, 3 November 2021, 9:30 – 16:00
Registration	For registration click here

