COURSE CERTIFICATE FOR TEMPORARY STUDENTS

Dear colleague(s) at partner institutions of Goethe University, temporary students come under different labels: guest or visiting students, freemover, exchange students, non-degree seeking students, ERASMUS students.

The course results of temporary students are often not registered with the registrar's office at the host institution. And even if they are, the courses which have been fully attended but have not been finished with examinations either do not appear on the final transcript at all or are listed as failed.

The above Course Certificate is introduced by us as the student's home university to assure that all courses the student attended at the host institution are accounted for and thus can be proven at the home university's examination and registrar's offices.

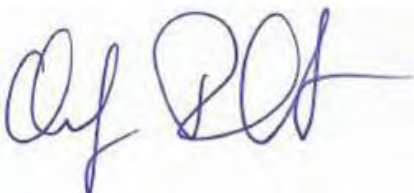

This Course Certificate helps the student after her/his study abroad period to get the course load accepted at the home university, be it as participated with individual grading or without individual grading.

We would greatly appreciate if you as teacher/professor/lecturer took the time and signed and stamped this Course Certificate.

If you wish, you might add a remark concerning the ranking of the student's performance within his/her class (top 10%, top 20% etc.).

Thank you very much for your cooperation!

By order,

Olaf Purkert
