Scholarships of the Ad Infinitum Foundation for Doctoral Candidates at the Faculty of Modern Languages at Goethe University

GRADE and the Faculty of Modern Languages offer two scholarships for doctoral candidates in German Studies and related disciplines at Goethe University. The scholarships are funded by the Ad Infinitum Foundation and cover up to 1350 € per month for two years. The call for applications for the next two scholarships opens on December 1, 2021.

The deadline for applications is March 31, 2022. The earliest possible start of the scholarships is on August 1, 2022.

Requirements for Funding
- Admission as PhD candidate at the Faculty for Modern Languages
- Fast course of study
- Exceptional capability for scientific work
- No sufficient alternative financial support

Funding Conditions
- Scholarship of up to 1,350 €/month
- Period of funding: 2 years

Application Procedure
- Send complete documents to GRADE till March 31, 2022
- Application assessment by GRADE and a selection committee at the faculty
- Announcement of funding till June 22, 2022
- Earliest start of funding: August 1, 2022

Additional Information
The application form and a detailed FAQ are available at the GRADE website: http://tinygu.de/Finanzierung

Contact
GRADE
Dr. Matthias Köhler
Phone: +49 (0)69 798-49402
E-mail: koehler@grade.uni-frankfurt.de

* The scholarships are available for doctoral candidates in German Studies as well as candidates in General and Comparative Literary Studies, General Linguistics, Scandinavian Studies or Theatre, Film and Media Studies whose work has a substantial relation to German Studies.