

Scientific Paper Writing: Special Focus on Psychology and Social Sciences

Objective

To get an insight into field-specific criteria of scientific writing and publishing in Psychology and the Social Sciences.

Description

Writing a paper in your field of research, finding the appropriate journal and finally getting your paper published requires a very specific knowledge of the writing and publication process in your discipline.

This online workshop will give participants an introduction into the following topics:

- Journal selection
- Process of submission
- Dealing with editor's feedback
- Writing exercises

This workshop is a complementary module to our general workshop program on scientific writing. We strongly recommend attending one of those workshops to obtain an extended knowledge of academic writing and publishing.

Trainer

Prof. Dr. Rolf van Dick
Goethe University, Frankfurt

- Has extensive knowledge of publishing academic articles
- Scientific Director of the Center for Leadership and Organizational Behavior at Goethe University (since 2011)
- Full Professor and Chair of Social Psychology at Goethe University (since 2006)
- Former associate editor and/or editor of several international journals

Research interests:

- Inter- and intragroup processes
- Applications of social identity theory in organizational fields such as diversity, leadership, mergers, teamwork

Organizational Information

Language	English
Target group	Doctoral Candidates at all stages and Postdocs from Psychology and Social Sciences
Date	Wednesday, 28 April 2021, 13:00 – 15:45
Registration	For registration click here